To the west and the east, a stop-and-go summer ahead

Work on a major Route 2 improvement project between Bethel and Gilead has brought with it the inevitable traffic delays, but drivers can take some compensation in enjoying the new vistas opened by the work. The $7.4 million project includes widening and straightening some of the sharp curves on the road. The work is expected to be completed by contractor H.E. Sargent in October, 2005. Beginning this week drivers headed east from Bethel on Route 2 can also expect to encounter construction. Work has started on a smaller project to improve the road in Hanover and Rumford. That project area begins near Stony Brook Campground and extends east toward Rumford for 8.3 miles. The project calls for repairing culverts and roadside guardrails, adding shim to level the existing road surface, and putting down a layer of new pavement. The work is part of a larger contract that also will provide for improvements to Route 17 in Mexico and Roxbury and for work on Route 5 in Rumford. As an economy measure, MDOT combined the contracts for the work on US Route 2, Route 5 and Route 17 into a single contract. That contract, awarded to Pike Industries of Lewiston on a bid of just over $2.6-million, calls for completion of work on all three projects by early September.

Bethel Town Meeting:

Voters to make the call on recall ordinance

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Bethel voters will decide at their June 9 annual Town Meeting if they wish to adopt an ordinance for the recall of elected municipal officials.

Town selectmen voted unanimously Monday to place the article on the warrant.

The vote was prompted by a petition circulated by Haley Tripp, wife of former Police Chief Darren Tripp. Chief Tripp was fired by Town Manager Scott Cole on Feb. 12 and the firing was later upheld by a 3-2 vote of the selectmen.

Bethel's annual Town Meeting takes place over two days, with elections and referendum items (if any) voted on a Tuesday, and the discussion and voting for the remaining warrant articles the following evening.

The selectmen said they would have preferred to place the recall ordinance on the referendum, since more people tend to turn out for that vote than show up for the sit-down portion of Town Meeting.

"We get a much better cross section of the population than we do at Town Meeting," said Dutch Dresser, chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

Reggie Brown agreed: "My preference would be to have that on a referendum," he said.

Scouts' projects will add grace to pathway

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The pathway in Bethel station — an already popular meeting and recreating spot for local residents and visitors — will be even more attractive by summer's end.

Two local Boy Scouts, Jason Howe and Brandon Roberts, have undertaken Eagle Scout projects targeted at the Davis Park end of the pathway. Both young men are from Troop 565 of Bethel.

Roberts has proposed constructing a nine-by-nine foot trellis/arbor to shade the park bench closest to the pathway's small covered bridge.

The trellis would utilize latticework, picking up and continuing a design detail from the bridge.

"If my troop and I build the trellis it would add character and shade to the walkway. It would also be a perfect place for vines to grow, which would further shade the bench," Roberts wrote in a proposal to the selectmen, who on Monday unanimously approved the plan.

Virginia creeper or another native vine will be planted to grow up the trellis, according to Jackie Cressy, of the Bethel Conservation Commission.

Roberts said he would seek donations of materials from local businesses, and fund-raise to come up with any money that might be needed.

He estimates that the project will take a week to build, and said he hopes for it to be ready by the end of June.

The second Scout project is underway and already near-

W'stock selectmen blast school budget hikes

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock selectmen and two Woodstock school directors Tuesday aired their opposing views — and shared their frustrations — over the SAD44 budget.

Selectman Steve Bies has contacted municipal officials in all SAD44 towns, he said, to encourage them to attend Monday's public hearing on the proposed $9.3 million general fund budget and $222,000 adult education budget.

Bies opposes the proposal, which would increase the average local assessment by 4.85 percent. District residents will vote on the budget in a June 8 referendum.

Of the five district towns, Woodstock would see the greatest increase in assessment this year — 9.26 percent. Other town assessment

"If the state government can say, 'We can't keep going,' then we can say, 'We can't keep going.' We have that right."

percentages are Andover, 7.84 percent; Bethel, 4.88; Greenwood, 7.10; and Newry, 1.88.

School directors Marcel Polak and Ron Deegan attended Tuesday's selectmen's meeting to discuss the issue.

Polak and Deegan said the School Board, which approved the proposal unanimously, had cut the budget back as much as it could without cutting student programs.

They said there was little flexibility because of contractual agreements and state and federal mandates that must SELECTMAN STEVE BIES be met to earn subsidy funding.

Polak also said the state has steadily dropped its share of district funding over the years, leaving local towns to pick up the difference. This year, after the board had put together a tentative budget, the Legislature cut another $26,000 in state aid to SAD44.

If voters defeated the budget, Polak said, the board would have to bring back almost the same proposal for another vote because there is so little room to cut.

But Bies wasn't buying

it. He said local voters are entitled to react to proposals that increase taxes the same way as the state has.

"If the state government can say, 'We can't keep going,' then we can say, 'We can't keep going,'" he said. "We have that right."

It would then be up to the School Board to make cuts to bring the bottom line to a level voters could accept, he said.

Bies said this is the third year he has attended SAD44 budget workshops to ask the board to lower the increases. This year, he said, many directors "gave me the impression they weren't listening. They were just going through the motions."

Polak said a more ideal time

Fundraising underway for village clock

By ALISON ALOISIO

In addition to the new trellis/arbor and hedge along the pathway, Bethel stands to gain another upstanding amenity this year.

Fundraising is now underway for a Victorian clock that is expected to be placed on land donated by Key Bank in Bethel Village.

Increased recreational activity can have a downside for wildlife

By ALISON ALOISIO

The cleaned-up Androscoggin River is attracting an increasing number of outdoor recreationists. But river and other nature-lovers should keep in mind the impact their presence may have on wildlife, said the keynote speaker at Friday's Androscoggin watershed conference.

The conference, held at the Bethel Inn, drew approximately 100 people from up and down the river. It was sponsored by the Androscoggin River Watershed Council. The event focused on wildlife in the watershed.

Judy Silverberg, the education and watchable wildlife coordinator for the New Hampshire Fish and Game Dept., opened the gathering.

She asked participants to think how they react when they see a wild creature, such as a moose: Do they take a photo from a distance, then go on their way? Or do they try to get ever-closer for that perfect shot?

Any time a human moves close enough to an animal to force it to move, the creature "burns up calories necessary for survival," she said.

Studies of eagles, for example, showed that the birds' temperatures and heart rates increased when canoeists came near their nests, said Silverberg.

A TRIBUTE TO MOM
Austin Jodrey, a fifth-grader at the Crescent Park Elementary School in Bethel, lost his mother, Celina, in a car accident in early April. As a project in his "Explorations" art class with teacher Arla Patch, he painted a portrait of his mother. It will be displayed in the Explorations exhibit on Saturday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Summit Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort. The exhibit is dedicated to Celina Jodrey's memory. Austin wrote the following words to accompany his painting: "Dear Mom, I'm sad and I really miss you. I miss when we used to always watch the same shows every week. I miss just not having you around. I painted this picture of you so I could always remember the good things about you. I love you so much. Forever, Austin."

ROAD CLOSING A LUDICROUS IDEA

To the Editor:

When I read Jeff Parsons' suggestion that the Town of Bethel close the Gould Academy section of Church Street to through traffic, I thought this article must be a belated April Fool's joke. I am astonished that this ludicrous notion should be considered front-page news, never mind actually being considered by town selectmen.

To eliminate a road that has been well traveled since Bethel was created, just because some children can't bother to look both ways before crossing the street, is beyond ridiculous. Any child capable of being potty trained can certainly master this skill.

Each and every one of us is ultimately responsible for his or her actions, privilege does not except anyone from this responsibility. Drivers must also exercise caution and care, but with a posted speed limit of 25 mph (15 where children are present), this road is perfectly safe for pedestrian and vehicular traffic, if everyone uses ordinary care and common sense.

Consider the problems already besieging the town; do we really need to create new issues, with absolutely no merits, for consideration by local government? I personally don't think so.

BRING THE TROOPS HOME

To the Editor:

Get our young men and women out of Iraq. We got Saddam for them, now it's time for the Iraqis to take care of themselves. Let their own people help put their country back the way they want it.

They speak the same language, they understand their culture, they don't even want us there.

My heart aches for the poor families who have lost sons and daughters, many in unbelievable brutal ways.

I, too, listen to another Father, and He says, "Enough!"

FIRST HOUSE AND GARDEN TOUR

To the Editor:

The Bethel Historical Society and Regional History Center will host its first House and Garden Tour Friday and Saturday, June 18 and 19 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. The $15 admission includes a booklet describing the houses and a luncheon of spring salads.

Tickets will be sold the day of the tours at the society's Robinson House Gift Shop on Broad Street. The dozen houses on the tour illustrate Federal, Victorian, cottage and colonial revival architecture.

The first house on the tour is The Prodigal Inn & Gallery on Route 2. The Inn was recently featured as a film set for the movie, "The Twelve Dogs of Christmas."

Built in 1813, this house was turned 45 degrees and a Victorian front added in 1881. The house has served as a B&B since the 1970s and has recently been fully restored by its new owners.

English country gardens surround a Greek Revival Cape on Broad Street. The house built in the 1840s by a carriage maker has served as a blacksmith shop and tourist home.

The Rivendell House built in the 1860s is the traditional "big house, little house, back house, barn." Over the centuries the house has served as a residence, veterinary office, funeral home and now a B&B.

Four historic inns and B&B's are offering packages for the event.

The Suite on the Common, is located in a house built in 1900 as the Congregational Church parsonage.

The Sudbury Inn on lower Main Street was built in 1873 by the village shoemaker. It was expanded in 1913 and became the Maple Inn. The inn still has its original tin ceilings.

L'Auberge, located on Mill Hill, was built as a barn in 1860 and moved to its present location in town. It was converted to housing for the Bethel Inn employees around 1920. To entertain themselves the inn's employees staged plays in the upper loft. Juliet's balcony exists today.

The Perennial Inn in Rumford Point, built in 1884, was a working farm for nearly a century. The house was the home of a suffragette — the first woman in Maine to have a driver's license. The perennial gardens are over a century old.

Other lodging options are available by phoning the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Reservation Service at (800) 442-5826 or on line at www.bethelmaine.com.

The House and Garden Tour will alternate annually with the Quilt Show.

Along with the formal tour, visitors can enjoy a self-guided walking tour of the Bethel historic district and antiquing.

DON'T LET MEMORIAL DAY MEANING FADE

To the Editor:

Some traditions shouldn't be allowed to die or just fade away. Talk to the old-timers and veterans in any given town and they'll tell you wistfully that the Memorial Day parade is one of those customs that is receding into history and may soon be a thing of the past. The orders of march are getting shorter and shorter, the brass bands have thinned to a ragged few and are increasingly out of step, and the crowds that once lined the streets and packed the sidewalks are dwindling out of apathy.

This shameful trend has increased over the years. One can recall a time when the parade was flush with marchers, homemade floats and kids riding alongside on bicycles whose wheel spokes and handlebars were decked out in red, white and blue decorations.

It seems nobody misses watching the Memorial Day parade. We used to have a lot of crowds.

Established in 1868 on May 30 as Decoration Day, Memorial Day was originally dedicated to honor the Civil War dead. (Since the 1970s, Memorial Day has been converted to a Monday holiday, in effect creating a floating three-day weekend that has done as much to undermine the meaning of the occasion as it has enhanced department store sales.) Go into almost any town and somewhere, on a green or public square, you'll find a Civil War monument.

Of course, as time wore on and more wars were fought, the day's meaning was expanded to honor all those who have served, fought and died for the nation.

This year's Memorial Day should be especially poignant because hundreds of men and women have given their lives in Iraq and Afghanistan. The tug of politics and polarization cannot and should not dilute the special expression of prayer and gratitude reserved for those who've made the ultimate sacrifice, no matter the war.

Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr., a Civil War veteran who became one of the great U.S. Supreme Court justices, gave a speech on Memorial Day 1884, which has as much relevance now as it did then.

Speaking to the "indifferent inquirer" who wondered why Memorial Day was observed, Holmes declared that the day "celebrates and solemnly reaffirms . . . a national act of enthusiasm and faith." He said a war can only be fought by those who strongly believe in something.

"More than that," he added, "you must be willing to commit yourself to a course, perhaps a long and hard one, without being able to foresee exactly where you will come out."

These words resonate in such uncertain times, but they can also get lost if a day of tradition is lost in the self-absorbed hubbub of barbecues and weekends at the lake.

THANKS FOR MAKING THE CAMP POSSIBLE

To the Editor:

To the residents of Bethel, Dr. Lennie Shaw, The Bethel Rotary Club, and of course Priscilla Thurston, I am writing to pass on our sincere appreciation for the continued and renewed relationship between deserving children of Bethel and Camp Susan Curtis. This summer will mark our 30th year of providing a tuition-free summer camp and year-round activities for 12,000 Maine children living in poverty.

Priscilla's story of success is evidence of the fact that when a caring community, dedicated school and counseling professionals, and a camp designed to build the self-esteem of at-risk children work together, the results are something everyone can be proud of.

I have the privilege of working with people in every community in the state of Maine that, much like Bethel, represent and support the 550 children that come to Camp Susan Curtis each summer.

I will say that my experience with Bethel has been above any other community that I have worked with. People seem to care about their neighbors, are willing to make an effort to help and generally take a great deal of pride in their community.

This was no more evident than in Dr. Shaw and his family allowing us to take part in the Rebecca Shaw Memorial Ski Day. Not more than a year after their tragedy, the Shaws and their extended family are turning her passing into a way to help people. It is just one example of the "spirit" that resides in the Bethel area.

Because of the strengthening of our relationship between Camp Susan Curtis and Bethel area schools, there will be eight new campers attending this summer and a total of 12 kids, ages 8-15 that will attend for at least two weeks. I look forward to working with such a fine community to make each of these deserving children the next Priscilla Thurston success story.

HOWARD COLE AND EVELYN NICKERSON

To the Editor:

Last week Howard Cole celebrated his 90th birthday. I just wanted to congratulate him on making this milestone and to observe what a useful citizen he has been throughout his long and busy life.

He has been active in many organizations and causes. At the Bethel Historical Society, we are particularly grateful for his devoted service as chairman of our Annual Fund campaign for many years. He has also been a generous donor to the society and shares my interest in railroads and their history.

Howard, may you have many more happy and healthy times to come.

I also would like to recall Evelyn Nickerson, who died this week.

For a few years in the 1970s, she and her husband maintained the Dr. Moses Mason House and its grounds. They did a fine job and I will always recall how careful "Ev" was to make certain the house was spotless. I don't think it was ever as clean before or after.

She also had a great sense of humor and a thoroughly positive attitude about life despite the challenges she faced toward the end of her days.

I enjoyed talking with her through the years and know she will be sorely missed by her family and friends.

Budget

for residents to provide input on the budget is earlier in the process, when the Finance Committee holds its meetings.

Bies said if the budget should be voted down, he would favor bringing a new proposal back to voters in the format of a district budget meeting, so it could be discussed in open forum before the vote.

The district used that process in the past, but a district-wide vote several years ago changed the method to a referendum in individual towns.

Other officials weigh in Vern Maxfield, Woodstock town manager, said many citizens in the town have complained about this year's school budget.

Selectman Leon Poland said that from a municipal perspective, it is frustrating to be unable to fix roads that are in poor condition because so much of the town's money (66 percent) goes to the schools.

New selectman Judy Bennett said she did not think the towns are getting their money's worth in education. "The final product is not very good at Telstar," she said. "The SAT scores are very low."

Polak replied that money in this year's budget has been allocated to address that.

"We're reorganizing the administration to give better accountability," he said. "If we don't do that, we don't have the possibility of improving."

The public hearing on the school budget is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday at the Telstar High School library. Information flyers outlining the budget were mailed to district residents this week.

Recall

But to be included on the referendum warrant, an article must be presented at least 45 days prior to the referendum, to allow time for absentee ballots to be prepared and circulated.

Since the recall ordinance was submitted too late to go to referendum, the selectmen opted to place it instead on the Town Meeting warrant.

Ironically, on April 20 Haley Tripp asked the selectmen to place a recall ordinance on the Town Meeting warrant. They refused, however, forcing her to collect signatures for a petition. Had the selectmen agreed at that point to put the ordinance to voters, there would have been time to include it as a referendum item.

There was some discussion at Monday's meeting of requesting the Town Meeting moderator to take the matter up on secret ballot, but no decision was reached.

Hearing scheduled
The recall ordinance will be the subject of a public hearing, set for June 7, at 7 p.m. in the Town Office meeting room.

Also up for discussion at that meeting will be proposed amendments to the town's Site Plan Review Ordinance.

The amendments seek to delineate more thoroughly and precisely the relationship between the town Planning Board and Board of Appeals, and the extent of the latter board's authority to reverse the former board's decisions.

The amendments also attempt to define more clearly the meaning of the words "variance" and "waiver," and to establish written rules for administering such requests.

Summer hours in Woodstock

WOODSTOCK — Selectmen voted Tuesday to try different office hours for the summer months, beginning June 1. The office will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m. If the new schedule doesn't work out well, said Town Manager Vern Maxfield, it will be changed back. He asked for the change to take advantage of daylight savings hours. There is little office traffic between 4:30 and 5 p.m., he said. In other business, selectmen learned the town will receive $34,774 in reimbursement funds to cover the cost of repairs to town roads in connection with the rain storm of December. They also learned of donations of $2,500 each to the community activity center and the fire station by resident Phil Gut.

Another guilty plea in robbery

PARIS — A second man has pled guilty in connection with a December robbery at the Big Apple on Railroad Street. Daniel Patrick Shannon, 19, of Rockland, Mass. pled guilty April 29 to a Class B felony count of robbery and theft by receiving stolen property. In exchange for the guilty pleas, another felony charge of unlawful possession of heroin against Shannon was dropped. He and Brian E. Kinlin Jr., 19, also of Rockland, robbed the store Dec. 3 at gunpoint. They were later apprehended on Route 26 in West Paris. Kinlin pled guilty April 21 to a Class A felony count of robbery and a Class B felony count of receiving stolen property. Both men are scheduled to be sentenced in August.

Texas firm buys ASC property

KILLINGTON, Vt. — A Texas company has taken control of 469 acres at the base of the Killington ski resort, relieving the parent American Skiing Company of millions of dollars of debt. As part of the deal between Killington Ltd. and a new company called SP Land Co. of Dallas, SP Land will take over ASC's debt to Fleet Bank. ASC was in default on loans of $78 million to that bank, at interest rates of up to 29 percent, according to the company's most recent financial report. The Eiger Fund, a Dallas-based real estate investment group with which SP Land is affiliated, has been one of Killington's creditors since 2000. A subsidiary of the Eiger Fund has worked with Killington to restructure the debt of the parent company since 2002. The deal also means ASC is no longer in default on any loans, for the first time in six years, he said. "This is a partnership that is mutually beneficial because it is going to push Killington forward," said Killington President Allen Wilson. "For SP Land Co. to be successful, Killington has to be successful and vice versa." ASC's financial troubles have made it impossible for Killington to invest in the large-scale development of a ski village that was first suggested five years ago. SP Land Co. president Steven Selbo said he wasn't committed to following the shelved ski village blueprints to the letter, but he called this vision for Killington's future a "good place to start." He said he would soon meet with town officials to try to extend the existing permits for the village. The land at the base of Killington Mountain recently acquired by SP Land Co. would lend itself the development of hotels, townhouses, and condominiums within easy access of golf and ski slopes, Wilson said.

Lilac Festival scheduled

PARIS — The McLaughlin Foundation will celebrate its eighth Lilac Festival on Memorial Day weekend, May 29-31. New to the festival this year will be a book signing by Maine author Jane Lamb on Sunday, and a 5K walk/run on Monday morning. This year's festival is sponsored by Androscoggin Home Care and Hospice. Author Jane Lamb's new release from Downeast Books, "The Grand Masters of Maine Gardening: And Some of Their Disciples" is a collection of her profiles of Maine's most notable gardens or premier gardeners, including Currier McEwen, Bernard McLaughlin, Roger Luce, and Patrick Chassé, among others. Lamb will sign books from 10 to noon Sunday. Copies of the book (hardbound, $30) will be available for purchase. The first annual 5K Lilac Lap walk/run, a fundraiser for McLaughlin, is set for 8 a.m. May 31. The race route will follow quiet neighborhood roads, with race start and finish at the garden. The route includes up- and downhill stretches, rest/water stations, and the scent of lilacs. Syringa Plus in West Newbury, Mass., Fox Hill Nursery in Freeport, and Bailey Nursery (the event sponsor) in St. Paul, Minn. have donated more than 60 lilac plants as prizes. Race registration forms are available at the McLaughlin Foundation, 97 Main St. South Paris, and at www.mclaughlingarden.org. Entry fees: $10 adults, $5 kids under 12. The first 200 pre-registered will receive a free Lilac Lap T-Shirt. As in past lilac festivals, there will be lilac care and maintenance workshops, garden tours, and periodic showings of the 1928 silent film "Jeannine, I Dream of Lilac Time" starring Colleen Moore and Gary Cooper throughout Saturday and Sunday. Honoring the day, the McLaughlin Foundation will donate a lilac to the Maine Veterans' Home on High Street. The gift shop and plant sales will open at 9 a.m. all three days. The Garden Café will be serving light lunches and refreshments. A $3 donation is requested for the event.

Loon plate population declining

AUGUSTA — Maine's loon license plate now seem as threatened as the endangered and threatened species it was designed to help, according to the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. The plate was introduced in 1994, to help protect wildlife and state parks. Its popularity peaked in 1998 with more than 110,000 plates. But the first threat came when the general issue chickadee plate was introduced. Sales of the loon plate dropped by nearly 20 percent in two years, to under 90,000. Since then, other plates have been introduced (including the University of Maine and lobster plates), and they cut loon sales down to 79,704 in 2002. When registering a car, motorists have the option of purchasing the loon plates for $20, then renewing each year for $15. The yearly payment returns $8.40 to the Department of Conservation and $5.60 to IFW. IFW dedicates the money to the nongame and endangered wildlife fund. The plate sales have funded many wildlife study and survey projects, according to IFW.

Wildlife

And near hiking trails, the density of nesting songbirds declines. "If parents (of nestlings) are disturbed, they are reluctant to return," she said. In addition, fledglings disturbed by humans may end up leaving their nest prematurely.

Silverberg said birdwatchers should ask themselves, "Is it really necessary to check this species of bird off my list?" before they decide to get too close.

Recreationists can also affect wildlife in the winter months. Snowmobilers crossing fields, for example, may crush the small wildlife that live beneath the snow. And in the western U.S., said Silverberg, a study found cross-country skiers had a negative impact on deer yards.

She said some recreational activities may have more of an impact than others, but "we must not view one in isolation. They generally compound each other."

Does this mean humans don't belong in wild habitats at all?

No, said Silverberg. "Life would not be the same without being able to view wildlife," she said. "But we can make a difference by how we choose to recreate. We see (wildlife) and go home. The animals are home."

Following Silverberg's talk, participants in the daylong conference chose among a dozen differences presentations to attend during the daylong event. Wildlife topics included coyotes, moose, bear, wild turkeys, loons, songbirds, fish raptors and eagles. Habitat protection was also discussed.

Another program on wildlife is planned for the fall, according to Chuck Knox, ARWC executive director. It will likely take the form of a weekend-long field trip in the watershed to teach participants how to recognize key wildlife habitat that should be protected, such as deer yards.

And in keeping with Silverberg's message, any wildlife watching will take place only from a distance, he said.

Projects

ing completion.

Jason Howe is installing a 100-foot-long hedge (also native plants) to provide a visual and sound buffer between the pathway and the skateboard park.

The hedge also provides a safety barrier between the pathway and park — and is a much more attractive alternative than a guardrail would be.

The hedge is almost three-quarters complete, with another six to seven shrubs to be planted by the end of the month.

Cressy and fellow Conservation Commission member Walter Hatch are advising the scouts on their projects and serving as liaisons with the town.

Gene Tanguay is scoutmaster for Troop 565. "The boys have tried to help the community out," he said. "And they have been having fun, but it's just one aspect of what scouting is all about."

Clock

The clock, approximately 10 feet tall, would be located on the corner of Main, High and Mechanic streets.

It will be similar in appearance to clocks in the villages of Dixfield and Gorham, N.H.

The clock project is spearheaded by the Bethel Rotary Club, which seeks to raise $15,000 to fund it. About one-third of that has been raised so far, according to Rotarian Al Barth.

The Bethel Board of Selectmen and town residents voted last year to accept the clock. The Rotary Club will continue to provide funds to support its maintenance.

Barth said it is hoped the clock can be put in place later this year, with a formal dedication next year.

The club undertook the project as part of its 30th anniversary celebration this year, and in recognition of the 100th anniversary in 2005 of the Rotary International organization.

Anyone wishing to donate to the clock fund may send contributions to the Bethel Rotary Clock Fund, P.O. Box 471, Bethel 04217.

In our back yard:

Protect your back yard when opening up your cottage

After a long Maine winter it's that time of year again when the earth starts to warm and the lakes shed their icy coats. Soon it will be time to have fun in the sun; swimming, boating and fishing at your summer retreat. But first there is much work to be done: the cottage needs to be prepared for the season; the waterline needs to be hooked up; the dock needs to be installed; and boats need to be launched.

When going through this yearly ritual, it is important to consider possible harm to streams and lakes and the surrounding environment from these activities. After all, one of the main reasons you go to the cottage is to enjoy the area's unspoiled beauty.

With regard to repair and maintenance to your retreat's buildings and grounds, take care when using cleaning agents, paints and stains. Use natural products like baking soda and lemon juice when cleaning. More information on making your own cleaning products from less harmful materials can be found at www.newdream.org/newsletter/greencleaning.html.

When using paints and stains, consider using earth tone colors so that buildings and other structures will blend better with the natural shoreline. Paint or stain docks away from the lake and allow at least 14 days of drying time before putting them in the water. Make sure to clean brushes, etc., away from the water to prevent materials from washing into the lake.

This may be a surprise to you, but when cleaning up winter debris on the property, do not rake up the duff layer of leaves and pine needles that build up under the trees. These leaves act like a sponge and filter and help prevent pollutants from getting into the lake. As a cottage owner it is one of the best things you can do to protect lake water quality.

Check the shoreline and other areas of the property for soil erosion. Stabilize these areas with vegetation or rock riprap. If more than minor maintenance and repair is required, or if structural measures are necessary, contact your local code enforcement officer and the DEP to determine if permits will be needed before doing the work.

With regard to your septic system, check the leach field for any breakouts and consider having the tank pumped if it has not been pumped in the last three years. A properly functioning septic system prevents harmful pollutants from getting into the lake.

Following these simple rules when opening up your cottage will go far in protecting the natural resources you so enjoy as a cottage owner.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Last week, every tree seemed to burst out in lovely shades of green. The fiddleheads popped out of the ground and within 24 hours they grew tall and promised to cover the forest floor with a soft green, hiding the winter debris and branches. Mother Nature sure knows how to sweep the "uglies" under the rug. The lawns are receiving their first mowing and it's almost safe to plant annuals. The bad news is, the black flies have arrived in force. Net hoods and Deep Woods Off Spray are seen in most dooryards. So far the mosquitoes are mild, but very soon they will present themselves in swarms. Recently, I read in "Saltscapes," a Canadian magazine, that they are also plagued by black flies. The little blighters are called buffalo gnats or turkey gnats up there. We have a different name for them in Upton, but The Citizen would never print the obscene moniker applied to them as they crawl under your socks and up your sleeves to extract their bloody meal.

Only females of the species bite, because they must provide blood in order to produce more of their kind.

The face of Errol has changed as L.L. Cotes Mall replaces several of the small buildings in the center of town. The buildings are quite attractive. "Knots for Logs Only" has remodeled the exterior of their gift shop and it looks great. Eames Garage, the Errol General Store, the Black Bear Restaurant, the corner market and the Creamery Restaurant and Ice Cream Parlor are all thriving, each in its own manner. It's a great little town with a lot to offer the public.

The Ladies Aid held their first meeting of the season. Plans were made for a Yard Sale (early this year) to be held on May 29, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. We hope to have a large turnout for Memorial Weekend.

Roger Lavalley has been deep-sea fishing for haddock. He has brought home to Upton some of the best haddock I have ever tasted. He also won a sum of money for the most fish caught.

Wildlife in the Androscoggin Water Shed, a conference sponsored by the Androscoggin Watershed Council, was held at the Bethel Inn Conference Center on May 14. Many informative sessions were presented. Wild turkeys, lynx and bear, loons, birds and fishery management were well received by those attending. Eagles, raptors and falcons were also presented in sessions. It was time well spent for those attending.

We have been blessed with spectacular sunsets, peepers, honking geese and crying loons each evening. Spring is really here.

While in Florida, Richard and I were wine and dined by some wonderful people who camp all summer on Tripp Pond. Rose Mangini, age 91, made some wonderful meatballs and sauce for Richard. John and Jean Mangini gave their all to give us a great vacation. My niece, Cathy Castello, and her handsome, wonderful husband Larry, gave us their ocean-side home for a month. How lucky can you get. They receive this column by computer and we cannot say thank you enough.

Congratulations to the Errol graduates. A Baccalaureate Ceremony was held in the Errol Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon.

Beaver damage around the lake becomes more apparent each day. Incidentally, it improves the view with each tree they cut down.

Pick your own "Bird of the Week." There are so many flying through. The brush is twittering with warblers. The robins have nests everywhere.

Maggie, the Golden dog, is providing big tufts of hair to help the birds feather their nests.

East Bethel

by Nancy Mercer

The East Bethel Cemetery clean up is May 22 at 9 a.m. and the rain day is May 23. There will be sandwiches and drink after the work is done. Any young people would be very much appreciated for their help.

The annual meeting of the East Bethel Church will be May 24 at the church at 7 p.m.

Esther Wilson hosted a big cookout for four graduates from college and Helen Farrar's birthday. The entire family was there plus loads of friends for about 35 people all together. Brent, Jackie Libby and Vandi Taylor-Kemp all graduated from New Hampshire Technical College, and Theresa Gibson graduated from the University of Audio Research in New York City. All the graduations happened on May 14 and the celebration was May 16.

Helen Farrar of South Paris came with Corena Morse of Harrison for her birthday celebration.

Rose Dyer, Roger and Louise Twitchell, Millie Jackson, Ruth Bethel and Dot Bartlett all attended the Bethel Seniors Citizens Club meeting at the Sudbury Inn on May 12.

Paul and Kathy Hebert were in Pennsylvania recently to visit Kathy's mother for a week.

On May 15, Paul and Kathy Hebert and daughter, Tanya, attended a housewarming for Jason Hebert in Gray.

Lacey Hebert now has a contract with the Mexico school system to be a teacher there for the coming school year. She had been teaching in the Farmington area.

Paul and Kathy Hebert attended a family gathering at Paul's mother's on May 13, to celebrate her birthday.

Neil and Linda Olson attended the housewarming in Gray, on May 15, for Jason Hebert.

Nancy Kimball, Christina Kimball and Steve Goss were in Sturbridge, Mass., May 11 and 12 for a ceramics convention.

Alder River Grange will be celebrating its 100th birthday on June 27, starting at 4 p.m. with hors d'oeuvres, supper of chicken BBQ and bean hole beans at 5 p.m., slide show at 6:30 p.m. and dancing to Richard Felt's band afterward.

Stan Howe is still looking for pictures of the East Bethel area of past years, to be made into slides. He will return

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

One of my fondest memories of when I was a little kid is when my mother would take me uptown for an ice cream on Saturday afternoon. Admittedly that was many years ago, though much more recent than the horse and buggy days as my kids seem to think. It was a much simpler time, at least for me.

I came from the era of the soda fountain which was a delightful experience that I'm afraid is lost on the youngsters of today. I imagine if you mention soda fountain to a kid now, they would immediately conjure up an image of a municipal fountain spouting Pepsi or Coke.

But in my day it was a counter with high stools and behind the counter there were tall black and chrome spigots for dispensing soda and sweet syrups, a lot of stainless steel and always a huge mirror on the wall. In those olden days we didn't know much about high fat and cholesterol and could look ourselves right in the eyes while we consumed the artery clogging sweetness.

Maybe it's because of the mirrors that soda fountains have become a thing of the past. People still eat large volumes of high fat, high cholesterol ice cream, but we all know it's not very good for us and we sure don't want to see ourselves packing it away.

Anyway, I was talking about a fond memory of going to a soda fountain with my mother and in Norway, where I was raised; we had several to choose from. If it was just ice cream we were after we went to Ashton's Drug Store or Fletchers. If there was a need to combine shopping with our mission we got the ice cream at Newberry's or Stone's Drug Store. Once in a great while we would end up at Barjo's Restaurant or venture all the way down to the other end of Main Street to Harlow's.

For all the options of where to buy ice cream there were not that many choices on what kind of ice cream to buy. The menus consisted of vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, coffee, and fudge ripple, sometimes pistachio and at Barjo's, my personal favorite, banana. All hard serve, no low fat.

I always chose fudge ripple unless we went to Barjo's, then, of course, it was banana. I was a bit of a rebel and didn't want to fall into the vanilla, chocolate, strawberry mold. I thought that was way too common. My mother always ordered vanilla.

Later, when I was old enough to ride a bicycle, Lyndon Spinney had opened the Dairy Joy and introduced the area to soft serve. I thought I was a big shot to pedal my bike there and get something different. The flavors were vanilla, chocolate, vanilla and chocolate twist and sometimes strawberry and coffee. I always chose the twist.

Now, everything has changed. The soda fountain and Dairy Joy are long gone replaced by seasonal ice cream stands.

Now, everything has changed. The soda fountain and Dairy Joy are long gone replaced by seasonal ice cream stands. The menus are vast and the flavor options are endless. When I go to one of these ice cream stands it takes me at least a half hour of standing in the hot sun just to decide what I want.

There is hard serve, soft serve, frozen yogurt, frozen custard, sherbet, Dole whip, low fat, no fat and reduced cholesterol. There are anywhere from 20 to 30 flavors of hard serve, several options for soft serve and at some of the stands there is a sign boasting 24 different flavors that can be added to soft serve.

Mind boggling, isn't it? And it doesn't stop there. The consumers have a choice of cones too; regular waffle or sugar cones and at some stand that choice expands to chocolate covered cones or chocolate and nut covered cones. If you can't make up your mind which cone you want, you can always have your ice cream in a dish.

Then you can add the choice of chocolate sprinkles (we used to call them jimmies) or colored sprinkles. If that's not enough you can have several different types of candy mixed into your ice cream or you can mix your ice cream in with your favorite flavor slush.

On top of all those options there are the old stand byes like sundae (several to choose from), parfaits (several to choose from) milk shakes (any flavor you can create) and good old banana splits.

Buying your ice cream in the supermarket isn't a whole lot easier. There you will find several brand names, many flavors, premium, gourmet, low fat, no fat, in-between fat, Italian ice, and ice milk. I won't even bother to go into the ice cream desserts, ice cream bars, sandwiches and a whole slew of other frozen concoctions.

Is it any wonder that ice cream is an $11 billion retail industry? To put that into a different perspective, each American consumes a yearly average of 23.2 quarts of ice cream, ice milk, soft serve and other commercially produced frozen dairy products.

Considering that 98% of all households in America purchase ice cream, I would guess that some of us are consuming a little more than our 23.2 quarts a year.

It's probably not too hard to figure out that the United States ranks number one in the top 10 ice cream consuming countries in the world. It may surprise you though, that the next 9 in order of top consumption are New Zealand, Denmark, Australia, Belgium, Sweden, Canada, Norway (the country, not where I grew up) Ireland and Switzerland.

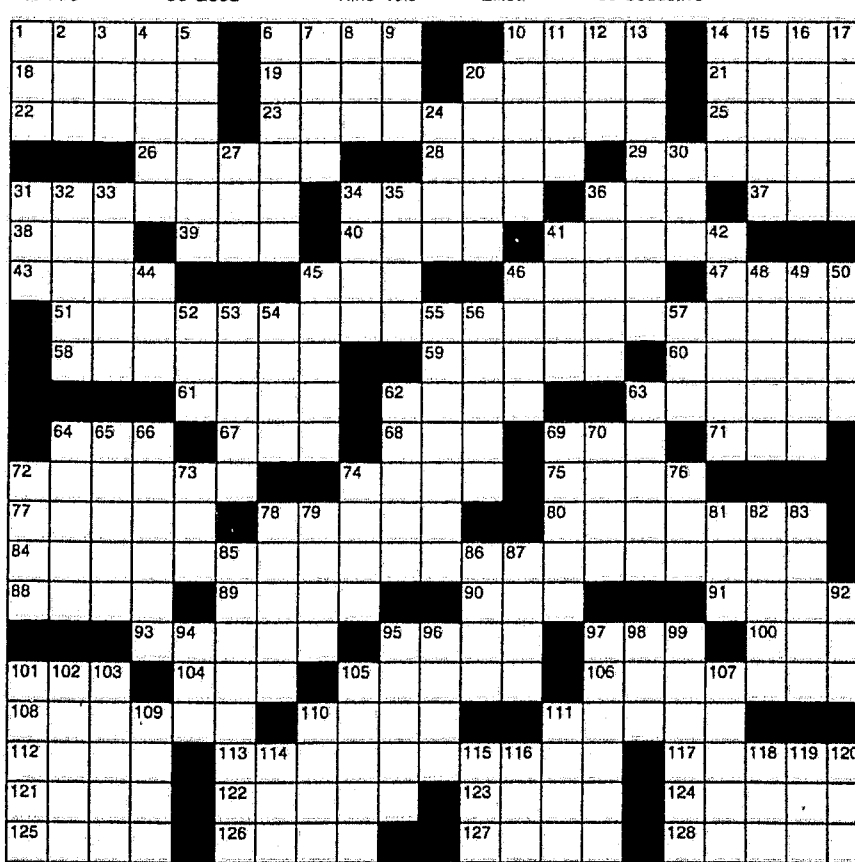

A couple of other interesting ice cream facts are children ages 2 thru 12 and adults 45 and over eat the most ice cream per person. The top three cities in America that purchase the most ice cream on a per capita basis are Portland, Oregon, St. Louis, Missouri and Seattle, Washington.

And believe it or not, the average number of licks it takes to polish off a single scoop ice cream cone is approximately 50. Here is the most interesting fact of all, in spite of all the choices of ice cream available, vanilla is still the world's favorite.

So no matter what your favorite flavor, choice of cone, what you mix in or don't mix in, or how many licks it takes you to eat an ice cream cone, just keep consuming that ice cream. The way I see it we should all do our duty and eat at least 23.2 quarts of ice cream this year so we can make sure this great country of ours will remain #1.

The supper schedule for Alder River Grange is as follows: July 24, bean hole beans; Aug. 21, bean hole beans; Sept. 11, roast beef; Oct. 23, harvest supper; Nov. 13, turkey supper. Any veteran gets a free supper. All suppers will have salads and pies for desert.

The Grange Yard Sale this year is on Mollycokett Day and will be at Stan Howe's on Broad Street. If you have stuff you wish to donate, we will take it — no clothes please. If it needs a pick up, call Nancy Mercer at 824-3350, Jim Lowe at 824-3107, or Stan Howe at 824-2291.

I hope everyone has a good week. God Bless the Troops.

Sympathy is extended to Robert and Roy Day and families in the death of their sister. Guests at the Ken Hoyts for dinner Mother's Day were Ken and Alice, Beatrice Farnum, Beth, Steven and Marybeth Hoover, JoAnn, David, Ray and Shawn Crockett, Jim Hoyt and Charlene Cash, Robert Hoyt, Leatrice and John Chase, Althea and Robert and Daniel Stevens, Richard, Teresa, Mike and Hunter Chase, Andrew, Rhonda and Liza Chase.

Committal services were held on Monday, May 10, for Beth Abbott (wife of Herschel Abbott) at the Ellis River Cemetery, Rumford.

Judith Grover Tent 17 met on Monday, May 10, at the Grange Hall with five members present. Memorial Day plans were discussed. Sharon will do the flowers. Money was sent to the department treasurer for convention expenses. Helvi said the Legion Auxiliary invited us to a program for WWII veterans on May 29. The school children are writing essays for Memorial. Mystery package went to Alice Hoyt. Eleven calls were reported.

On Mother's Day at the Baptist Church, Pastor Ron Pinkham spoke in the morning and Nadja Bolio spoke at night. Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School and Adult Bible Fellowship at 9:15 a.m., morning worship at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5:15 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. is prayer meeting. Thursday at 9 a.m. is Ladies Bible study. Tuesday, May 18, is a special meeting to vote on calling Lawrence Hodgkins as the pastor of the church.

On Friday, May 28, the Grange will have a Mock Hee Haw Show at the Grange Hall at 7 p.m. Come help the Grange earn some money.

On May 6 at the New Hampshire Community Technical College at Berlin, N.H. the sixth annual Emmons Award Night was held. Those attending were Mary Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. James Hagar and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walton. This award is given to a senior culinary arts student who demonstrates overall excellence in the kitchen as well as classroom. A delicious banquet was served.

Don't forget the Memorial Day program and parade on Monday, May 31. Program at the Honor Roll near the Grange Hall will be held at 1 p.m.

At the May meeting of the Historical Society secretary Elaine Roberts read columns from years ago in the Lewiston Sun. There was everything from clearing ice out of the canal to selling maple syrup for 18 cents a pound in 1904. The members decided to have a flea market sale on July 10. Anyone can rent a table for $3. History Day will be Aug. 7, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and features crafts, a food sale and museum tours.

The June meeting will be a program when each member brings a list of memories. Curator Larry Billings has given a rare primitive wooden book to the society. There isn't much primitive in the museum but a plow and great spinning wheel.

Mary Billings went out with sons Paul and Larry for a meal on Mother's Day, also Vicki May's family. Vicki's grandson, Jonathan, is delightful.

Moore were among the attendees. Immediate supervisor Jeff Littlehale and his wife Jolene arranged everything. Freda received many gifts including a clock of the State of Maine made by construction supervisor Brian Mitchell. Many friends and relatives also came to wish her the best. A supper was served and a short program commenting on her excellent work for the state and for her devoted service. Congratulations, Freda, happy retirement.

A birthday party was held here at our home for our granddaughter, Sarah Lynch. Strawberry shortcake, Italian sandwiches and other goodies were served. Those attending were: Sarah and Phil Lynch and Zack, Jessie Hart, Kellie Record, Richard and Andrea Wing, Carol Hall and Olivia York came by later. Kellie and Sadie had a fun time playing Frisbee and chess with Kellie's grandson, Zack, after the party.

Mother's Day was also the same day as the birthday party. I received presents including books by Dr. Phil. We had a nice visit with our son, Rick, Monday night when he came for supper and brought me a nice crockpot, which I really needed.

Westies Senior League played a ball game Sunday against Lawrence, winning 7-0. They've won all games so far.

Albert Silver did a fine job landscaping our lawn where trees had been cut and bushes removed. Richard has been putting water on it several times a day after he seeded the area.

Patrice Dunn is flying in from California to visit her parents, Jim and Evelyn Dunn, for a week or so.

Larry Billings, curator of the Woodstock Historical Society, reports that at the May meeting Elaine Roberts read articles from years ago that were in the Lewiston Sun. Upcoming events are a flea market July 10 and History Day, now devoted to crafts, will be Aug. 7. Vicki May donated an item to the society.

LORRIE HOEH HONORED—On Saturday, May 8, Pleasant Valley Grange presented the 2004 Community Citizen Award to Lorrie Hoeh. A 3 p.m. reception was well attended by Grange members, friends and family. The program began with a candle-lighting ceremony with readings to emphasize the meaning of charity. Lorrie's many contributions to our community were recounted. These include volunteer hours with the Nordic Handicapped Skiing Program, The Bethel Historical Society, The Bethel Library, Bethel Family Health Center, and the Mahoosuc Land Trust. She has also taught parenting classes for adult education both here and in Norway. She also participates in the Avon Walk for Breast Cancer, having reached, this year, her goal of raising $5,000.

happy about the rain, as with growing season, we certainly do need some.

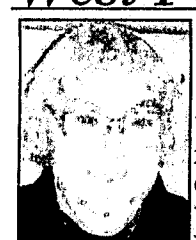

Bud Bowden's daughter, Gail, has been up visiting with her father.

Our neighbor, Debbie, told us Sunday morning that her birdfeeder was torn down by a bear during the night. Not too surprising — Sheila and Pam Rugg saw bear cubs last fall on the side of the road. There's lots of wildlife in our neck of woods.

Marissa Corriveau and Annika Barton are each celebrating birthdays this week.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

What beautiful hot weather we had last week. I welcome it but some are complaining that it was too hot. My old farmhouse when built about 150 years ago was well placed to get a breeze all summer. The back door on the north admits cool air right through the den, living room and kitchen. So I have my own private air conditioning that is not running up the electric bill. This house back in the '20s or '30s served as a beer parlor in the front bedroom with the back bedroom as the storage room, thus the back door. The storm door as well as a roll of thick insulation keeps out the north winds all winter.

At the West Paris Universalist Church on May 23 I will be guest speaker. My topic will be "Feeling Religious" and will tell some about my trip to London. Jim Burke is organist. Coffee hour will follow.

Randy Chase graduated from the Technical Community College in Berlin, N.H. with a BS in Culinary Arts. On Thursday night those attending the banquet were his wife Wendy, daughter Becky, and mother Dede Chase. He has driven north into the mountains for the past four years in all kinds of weather to accomplish this. Congratulations, Randy. Quite an accomplishment.

Nester Ruokolainen is recovering at home after spending four days at Maine Medical Center after a truck accident. Hurry and get well.

Someone left a ring of keys at the Grange Sale two weeks ago. Mary Lovejoy has them, call 674 2147.

Caleb Lamb spent the weekend with his father, Kenneth Lamb.

Beryl Bonney is doing well after surgery. Dorene Merrill has been with her for two weeks and has returned home.

When it rains Buffy loves to go walking. Sunday morning he came back looking as if he had been swimming in the farm pond. He looked much smaller with all his fur dripping. He waits just inside the door and lets me towel him off. If I put the towel on the floor he will sit on it and clean himself off. Or he hops onto my bed on his big towel that is always there for him and grooms and then naps.

Andover

by Joan Stinson-Carney

My condolences to the family and friends of Penny Poor.

Condolences, also, to the family and friends of former Andover resident Evelyn Bell. Your kind thoughts and prayers are needed for Andover resident Joe Madigan, who suffered a heart attack this weekend.

Daniel White is recuperating from surgery at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, David and Betsey White.

Congrats to Philena and David Chaisson who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. They spent time at the Balsams, and David let Philena caddy for him. What a guy. Philena, you deserve a gold star in Heaven.

The Bicentennial Weekend is getting closer and closer. Here is a partial list of scheduled events. Friday, June 18, 3 to 10 p.m., Carnival; 8 to 12 p.m., Street Dance. Historical Society display at the Town Hall all day. Saturday, June 19, 8:30 a.m., Road Race at four corners around the four-mile square; 9 a.m., Kids' Parade (bikes, trikes, and doll carriages); 10 a.m., Parade followed by wagon rides, dedication of the Civil War Monument, 21-gun salute; 11 a.m., East Andover Community Club Picnic on the Common; Noon, Skydivers; 12:30 p.m., free birthday cake and ice cream at Bandstand on the Common; 1 to 2 p.m., Time Capsule Opening; 1 to 3 p.m., Trickster Fox performs; 2 to 6 p.m., Antique Tractor Pull; 2:30 p.m., drawing for Historical Society Basket; 4 to 6 p.m., Pig Roast at Fire Station; 5 p.m., softball game; 6 to 8 p.m., Hot Air Balloon demonstration; 9 p.m., Fireworks.

Sunday, June 20, Pancake Breakfast at the First Congregational Church sponsored by the Andover Service Circle; Noon to 1 p.m., Organ Concert at Church; Noon to 5 p.m., Carnival; 1 p.m., Sweet Adelines performing on the Common; 1 to 5 p.m., Open Houses. The Andover Historical Society Building will be open

OLD HOME DAYS PROJECT

A few of the members of the craft group of the West Paris Universalist Church tie a handmade quilt they made this winter. Nancy Willard, Peg Perham, Eleanor Inman. Helping is quilter Liz Shaw of South Paris. Beverly Stevens and Joyce Lamb also worked on the quilt. The group is selling chances on it to be drawn at Old Home Days June 6. Plans are also underway for a "Service of Memory" to be held at the church Sunday, June 6, at 9 a.m. It is an opportunity for members, friends, and anyone interested in sharing a memory they have of a loved one, former minister, or someone who has made a difference in the community or their life, to share it. Jeanne Lamb Whittemore, whose mother was organist and choir director for many years, will be guest soloist. James Burke is organist. The sharing will replace the regular sermon. The Rev. Joy Gasta will offer the prayer. For more information, contact Willard at 665-2788 or Inman at 527-2139.

as well as a display at the Town Hall. The members would like people with Andover history items, pictures, etc., for display to contact society members. You can call Bev Swan at 392-4742, Norma Farrington at 392-2652, Trudy Akers at 392-3157, Eda Perkins at 392-4401 and Betsey White at 392-1291. Security will be provided; small items will be put in show cases. If you want to stay and guard your items, that will be fine. Please contact members so plans can be made ASAP.

This is going to be a great time for Andover, I hope you are making plans to attend some or all of the events. See ya.

West Paris

by Bertha DeHaas

On the evening of May 6, at West Paris Grange 198, the Community Citizen Award was presented to Clay Wilson (in person) for all the work he has done over the years for the West Paris youth and the West Paris Athletic Association. Clay's wife, Karen, has run the Snack Shack all these years, too. They have two daughters and reside on High Street, West Paris.

Saturday, May 8, was a beautiful and busy day for most of us, as it was the Mother's Day Craft and Food Sale at West Paris Grange. They had a good turnout. Mary's corn chowder was delicious, as usual.

Also on May 8, the ladies of West Paris Baptist Church (29 of them) had their annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at Market Square Restaurant. The guest speaker for the day was Mary Jane Abbott-Ames, formerly of West Paris, now of Gorham, N.H.

Sunday afternoon, May 9, the Richard G. Felt Band played at the Victoria Villa in Canton, to a very appreciative group of ladies and gentlemen.

Monday afternoon saw a bit of excitement in West Paris village when Walter Inman's pickup truck caught fire in front of the West Paris Post Office. Walter had just made the final payment on his truck.

Tuesday afternoon saw the Buckfield, South Paris, Norway, and West Paris fire trucks, and one Pace ambulance in Buckfield for a woods fire out behind trailers. It burnt over an acre. The quick thinking of a 14-year-old boy calling 911 and using the family's garden hose kept the fire from taking any homes and burning over a larger area. Makes us older folks remember the forest fires of 1947 — "The Year Maine Burned."

At 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 12, the members of Foster-Carroll Post 72 American Legion and Auxiliary met at their hall beside Deering Memorial Methodist Church in South Paris for their installation and a buffet supper before their business meeting. The following officers have been duly elected and installed for the following year: commander, Ray Berard; 1st commander, Joseph Lamonte; 2nd vice commander, Hartley "Skip" Mowatt; adjutant, Arthur E. Hill Jr.; finance officer, Sarah L. Glynn; sgt. at arms, George Brown; chaplain, Gilbert F. Turner; service officer, Joseph F. Conney, historian, JoAnn R. Hill; judge advocate, Matti Korhonen.

The Ladies Auxiliary officers are: president, Virginia Gammon; 1st vice president, Lillian Herrick; 2nd vice president, Jill Gerard; secretary, Marilyn Ramsay; treasurer (open); sgt. at arms, Mabel Dunn; chaplain, Pat Dyer; historian, Marguerite Johnson; executive committee: Florence McGlaughlin and Jean Lamonte. Have a good year and God Bless.

It sure has been a busy year so far. Take care and see you all next week.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

Herb Kirtledge is reported as being on the sick list and is hospitalized.

Louise Worcester was feeling well enough one day last week to go for an automobile ride.

Joan Tucker has improved and has returned to her home. She has been staying with her daughter since having surgery in Portland over a month ago.

Local logger Brian Worcester was temporarily sidelined recently when a mishap in Mexico broke his jaw. He reports his jaw will be wired shut for six to eight weeks. That should keep him quiet!

Travelers along US Route 2 in Hanover and part of Rumford can expect traffic delays, as Pike Industries has begun an 8.5-mile major repaving project. Several portions of the roadway will have the old pavement removed so that the road base can be fixed. A portion of Route 5, the Ellis River Road, will also be repaved.

A bear, reported to be fairly large, has been making the rounds. He has invaded homes, garbage cans and birdfeeders on Barlow Road, Laurie's Lane, Main Street, Mill Hill Road, Baby Brook Lane and Howard Pond Road. Lorraine Gallant reported to Neighborhood Watch that the bear had broken down a bird-feeder that was attached to the window of her house. Officials have advised that it is a good idea to keep bear food items inside, especially at night.

The Maine Forest Service reminds folks that a fire permit is required before burning brush, leaves or debris. Check with Hanover Forest Fire Warden Chris Howe to see if conditions are favorable for burning. He will issue a one-day fire permit if possible. Remember to keep your fire small and put it out if the wind starts blowing and make sure the fire is completely out when the burning is completed. Anyone who has a fire that gets out of control may be held liable for the cost of putting out the fire.

That's it for this week. Have a safe and happy one.

My daughter, Evelyn Heikinen, went to Portland to Maine Medical where she will be operated on Thursday. Hope she will feel much better after that.

Saturday, David and Sally Holt and daughter, Mary, and Ann Holt, celebrated their mother's birthday and Mother's Day with their parents, Leonas and Fay Holt.

Bradley Payne went down to see his mother, Cora Payne, at South Paris.

Robert Holt and son, Danny, called on his parents, Leonas and Fay Holt. They all went down to see Colista Morgan. David and Sally Holt's daughter, Mary, went to Boston and had her eye operated on. It is coming along well.

A thought to remember: "The road to success is always under construction."

Saturday, David and Sally Holt and daughter, Mary, and Ann Holt, celebrated their mother's birthday and Mother's Day with their parents, Leonas and Fay Holt.

Bradley Payne went down to see his mother, Cora Payne, at South Paris.

Robert Holt and son, Danny, called on his parents, Leonas and Fay Holt. They all went down to see Colista Morgan. David and Sally Holt's daughter, Mary, went to Boston and had her eye operated on. It is coming along well.

A thought to remember: "The road to success is always under construction."

That's it for this week. Have a safe and happy one.

My daughter, Evelyn Heikinen, went to Portland to Maine Medical where she will be operated on Thursday. Hope she will feel much better after that.

Owen has added midwifery to his list of accomplishments, as he stayed home Sunday from church a couple weeks ago to help her as she was having a hard time birthing the kittens, it being her first litter.

I accompanied Laura Hutchins to Portland Friday, where Laura visited her brother, Russell Yates (more commonly known as "Uncle Joe") at the Maine Medical Center where he had been a patient several days. Laura and I enjoyed most of the trip (we had a longish wait at the road construction site outside of Poland) and got started catching each other up on our lives since we both graduated from Gould in the Class of 1951. I also saw a black heron perched on a rock on the shore of Back Cove. I had heard of them but had never seen one until now.

My office assistant thinks I am being very boring as he snoozes in a curled up position at the top of the page. I get such a big kick out of him.

Call to worship was held Sunday morning, Mother's Day, May 9, at the Newry Community Church with Pastor Rodney Hanscom at the pulpit and daughter Nancy at the organ. Thought for the day by Sue Wight. Scripture readings by Owen Wight, Nancy and Sue. The message of the day was: "Remember Mothers." Prayer, hymn, benediction and postlude, amen.

A moose has been sighted often on Bear River Road. Break for moose. Don't shoot. If you desire to send a card or go see him, here is the address: Reginald (Ras) Bachelder, Cove's Edge, Room 1007, 26 Schooner Street, Damariscotta, ME 04543.

Newry Mothers Club met Tuesday, May 11, at the Newry Town Office with five members plus two guests present. Senica Corriveau presided over the meeting. Present were Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley, Senica Corriveau, Retta Berry and Nancy Wight. Guests were Jordan Berry and Samuel Corriveau. Jordan Berry drew Karlene Bachelder's name for the mystery prize.

Plans were made to give $100 each to the five Newry graduates. Supper, June 9, will be at the Town and Country Inn, plus a yard sale late June. Date to be announced later.

John and Nancy Wight had a cookout Mother's Day. Present were Terri and Staci Littlehale, Ed Powers and Retta Berry, Jason, Sarah and Jordan Berry, Brad, Katie, Kurt and Kevin Wight. Dennis and Rita Wilson. Cake and ice cream was served for Terri Littlehale's birthday.

Brenda Wight went to her mom's, Shirley Staples, to help with yard work.

Tuesday, May 11, there was an Oxford County Republican meeting at the Wilkins House in Waterford. The Hannibal Hamlin Republican Women's Club as always put on a good lasagna dinner, with meeting following at 7 p.m. Paul Billings opened the meeting. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given and accepted. Becky Kendall and Stan Howe spoke of the upcoming convention in Augusta on May 14 and 15. Arlan Jodrey introduced David R. Clough, who was the featured speaker, and he talked about the Maine Legislature and small business. He touched on subjects of tax reform and balancing the budget. Norman Ferguson, Rob Cameron and Sawin Millett and Rich Bennett and Caldwell Jackson all spoke briefly, as did a few others. Penny Tucker of the Hannibal Hamlin Republican Women's Club spoke of the luncheon on Tuesday, May 25, at the South Paris Congregational Church where you can meet and hear candidates. It was mentioned that 59 percent of people buckle up. I like that, "Click it or ticket." There were 52 people at the meeting with 13 towns and two outside represented. The meeting adjourned at 8:30 p.m. Next supper meeting will be at the East Stoneham Congregational Church vestry on June 15; 5:30 p.m. is fellowship, 6:30 p.m. is supper and 7:30 p.m. is meeting. Guess I am old fashioned. I say supper and most people say dinner — whatever. Hope you will all be there. The local Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War will be putting it on.

Now I'm going out and feed the pretty little hummingbirds.

Don't forget, Friendly Senior Citizens meeting and potluck lunch at 11:30 a.m., June 2, Wednesday, at the North Waterford Church vestry, and also don't forget to go vote on June 8.

Mason

by Richard Grover Mason and the West Bethel Union Church lost one of our own last week. Camilla Everett, the extremely talented and lovely wife of Bob Everett, passed quietly after a long and courageous battle with cancer. Camilla was an active member of the church from the time she moved to this area with Bob. She was a dedicated choir member and occasionally rewarded the congregation with a stirring solo rendition of one of the "old favorite" hymns. She loved nature and spent many hours cleaning the small pond behind their house, planting gardens and landscaping, often regaling friends with tales of the ducks or other bird activities in the pond along with the antics of her bird-hunting cat. She was an exceptional artist, painting murals and paintings, generally of rural landscapes or other scenes of nature. Although Camilla was originally from south of the Mason-Dixon Line, she quickly became a "native" of this area and made friends with most everyone who was lucky enough to become acquainted with her. We all miss her.

In other local news, I learned that Dan and Lydia Grover are successful "catfishermen." It seems that Dan went on a little fishing expedition with his brother Rupert a few days ago. After he got home, Dan stood his fishing pole up in the corner, leaving a "daredevil" red and white spinner with treble hooks hanging about two feet above the floor. Next day, Lydia brought the cat to dad with a daredevil in his mouth and about three or four feet of fish line dragging behind. Apparently, the cat had taken an interest in the dangling daredevil and attacked it, resulting in the treble hook getting caught in the cat's mouth, the points of the hooks protruding from the cat's lips and cheek. Dan took a pair of wire-cutting pliers and cut the ends off the hooks, but Lydia took the cat to the vet to get the barbs removed from the mouth. That's a "fish story" that almost anybody can believe.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

I read in the Sunday paper that Saturday's heat was record breaking. It sure was some hot. It was July hot and it was only May. That's not the first time May has been hot. April has been that hot some years. I was well hydrated, but I sure felt the heat. Especially when I had to climb into the cardboard bin. We survived.

The real news that day was the Talent Show at the Waterford Memorial School. There was an excellent crowd. The acoustics were not great, but the young people performed well. One of the biggest stars was our neighbor, Michelle Corriveau, the "Master" of Ceremonies. Michelle did a great job of introducing the acts. She was even in the Playground Skit. For us, of course, the highlight was watching granddaughters Sadie Morin and Cassidy Perkins in the Mini Cheerleaders. Both first-graders, they performed well, although they were omitted from the program. They were also in the first-grade performance of the Macarena. All the performers did very well. The money from the admission price went to the Waterford Elementary School Playground Fund.

LOCAL CAR RUNS WELL AT OXFORD PLAINS—This 1984 Mustang from Cole's Custom Auto in Gilead placed second in a 125-vehicle drag racing competition, held May 8 at Oxford Plains Speedway. Dusty Chapman drove the 302 V8 modified car in a dozen races leading up to the final against a 1967 Chevrolet Nova from the Central Massachusetts Drag Racing Association. The association brought about 60 of its cars to the competition, which featured everything from modified cars to dragsters to snowmobiles. Ken Cole, owner of Cole's, said Oxford Plains holds other competitions open to many kinds of cars, and he encourages anyone interested in racing to contact him for a schedule (836-3620). "Do it in the right place, under safe conditions," he said. (Photo by Allison Aloisio)

In other news, it looks like both Waterford (W.A.S.T.E.) Transfer Station and Bethel (Tri-Town) Transfer Station may have found someone to take their LP gas containers. By combining the two we can reach beyond the threshold necessary to get free pick up. Thanks go to Cynthia Hamlin for seeing this through. Both are heavy into cleaning up after the winter snow and ice have receded. As I am sure everyone knows from his or her own home, it is amazing what appears after the snow disappears. In Bethel, we found all kinds of things, including bicycles, iron posts and even trash. Hopefully, it is about cleaned up now.

We also attended Fare Share Follies this past weekend. We enjoyed Joe Perham, Leah Wolfson/Rei Cortez, and the mimes. It was also great to see old friends and new ones, too. My favorite event was in the lobby when Liam performed an Irish jig. Afterward he wanted to know how old he had to be before he could perform. He is currently in the first grade.

Sunday, after a day of work, we attended a housewarming/birthday party at the new home of Janet Willie. There were many great friends there and all enjoyed a shish kabob barbecue and several bean dishes. Many brought perennials for Janet's new garden.

We were saddened to read of the deaths of two Bethel area friends, Camilla Everett and Hamako McIlroy. Our condolences go to the families of both. Our hearts are with you.

All our wood is now stacked in our newly enlarged addition to our woodshed. Next we have to get all the kindling in. Half of it is in there, now. We are going to be ready for winter. David finished the roof on the shed just as the raindrops started to fall and the thunder and lightning began.

That is all for this week. Have a great week and enjoy the summer days when they are here and the spring days when they are here.

Bethel Senior Citizens

The Bethel Senior Citizens Club met May 12 at the Sudbury Inn for their annual meeting and dinner with 55 present. President Musa Brown conducted the meeting and led the salute to the flag. Reports were given by Jane Hosterman and Arlene Lowell. The door prize was won by Doris Mills, and the raffle, which was a ceramic plate made by Nancy Kimball, was won by Bertha Foster. The next meeting will be June 9 at the East Bethel Grange Hall; price of the dinner will be $6. Meeting to start at 11 a.m.

Musa Brown announced the schedule for the rest of the year. Cecile Lescault read a humorous story. Barbara Douglass, one of the first members of the club, was present and was presented a corsage from the club.

The speaker was Marty Engstrom, who lived and worked for 38 years on Mt. Washington as a transmitter engineer and also a weather reporter. He showed slides of his adventure and a question and answer period followed.

May birthdays are: Freda Davis, Cecile Lescault, Rudy Royer, Louise Twitchell, Marie Witter and Maggie Ring. The birthday cake was made by Dorene Vail.

Andover Bicentennial Committee

There will be fireworks in town on Saturday night, June 19.

While that might sound like prediction of a squabble over a local issue, the fireworks will be provided by Blue Hill Pyrotechnics as part of a Bicentennial celebration being planned for the weekend of June 18-20. Activities will begin on Friday afternoon with a carnival from 3 to 10 p.m., and from 8 p.m. until midnight, a street dance.

The carnival will remain in town throughout festivities, which include: parades, wagon rides, birthday cake and ice cream, burying a time capsule, a pig roast, hot air balloon rides, an organ concert, historical displays, a pancake breakfast and open houses. Weather permitting, there will be a skydiver on Saturday.

"We've tried to gear the weekend for all ages," says Roger Mills Jr., who like his father for the 1954 Sesquicentennial, serves as general chairman of the 2004 celebration in this small Oxford County town. Mills admits it has taken countless phone calls at night, during the past two years, to pull things together. The Bicentennial Committee is now meeting every other Thursday night at the town hall, and inquiries from those willing to lend a hand are encouraged with the big weekend just a month away.

Mills and most of the sub-committee chairmen met at 6 p.m. on May 6 to discuss progress made in creating a memorable occasion. Present were: Historical Society liaison Norma Farrington, Barbara Meisner (food), Sid Pew (fireworks), Evelyn Bode-mer (historic homes), Paul Lee (doll carriage parade), Nancy Wardwell (commemorative t-shirts and sweatshirts), Judy Michaud (souvenir buttons) and Marshall Meisner who, notes Mills, "is doing so many things we can't pinpoint them all."

Meisner, Andover's road commissioner, was well versed at the meeting on the whys and what-fors for placement of a long banner heralding the upcoming Bicentennial weekend. A trial run for stringing it over Main Street had been made by members of the fire department back in April, but Meisner said, at the recent meeting, this would not be allowed by Central Maine Power Company. "Too close to their power lines," he said, adding that the electric utility will set poles for placing the heavy banner somewhere else. He agreed to continue dealing with the matter. Pew was also agreeable, saying he'd scout around for more donors so flags can flutter from lower Main Street to the bridge "and up to Windy Corner." There are 53 poles along this route, but it was felt 25 American flags would be enough.

A doll carriage parade was a feature of the Sesquicentennial and Lee reported plans are progressing nicely to repeat this event in 2004. There are three classes to be judged: bikes, trikes and doll carriages.

Other Saturday events include: a road race (8:30 a.m.), the kids parade (9 a.m.), a classic parade with floats (10 a.m.), dedication of Civil War monument and 21-gun salute, wagon rides, the carnival (10 a.m. to 10 p.m.), town hall displays (all day from 8 a.m.), East Andover Community Club picnic on common (11 a.m.), free birthday cake and ice cream (12:30 p.m.), 1954 time capsule opening (1 to 2 p.m.), Trickster Fox performing (1 to 3 p.m.), antique tractor pull (2 to 6 p.m.), a softball game, pig roast at the fire house (4 to 6 p.m.), hot-air balloon rides (6 to 8 p.m.) and fireworks (9 p.m.). The Andover Historical Society headquarters on Elm Street will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and there will be a display of historical items in the town hall throughout the weekend.

The Historical Society's other property, a one-room schoolhouse in East Andover, will be open Sunday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Although the 1954 Sesquicentennial boasted "dynamite salutes at dawn," the 2004 Andover Bicentennial Committee has scheduled events for Sunday without quite as much fanfare. These include: a pancake breakfast at the First Congregational Church (7 to 9 a.m.), an organ concert (noon to 1 p.m.), the carnival (noon to 5 p.m.), Sweet Adelines performing on the common (1 p.m.) and at least two historical houses open to the public (1 to 5 p.m.).

Those planning for the 2004 Andover Bicentennial indicate the program is subject to a few changes, but one thing is certain, there are, indeed, enough activities scheduled to please all ages. As with any undertaking of this size in a small town, volunteers are needed to help carry off this big birthday bash. The Bicentennial Committee would be grateful.

From the Gilead Bicentennial Committee

The committee met on May 8 and finalized a few more plans for the celebration on June 26.

Ozzie Hart was present at the meeting and will be coordinating the police coverage we will need for the day.

The issue of where to park is being solved. Richard and Sue Saunders are clearing their field for parking and Bev has met with Paul Boisvenue, director of engineering for the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railroad. We will be clearing a space between the railroad and Route 2 on both sides of Bridge Street. After the celebration, the area will be modified to eliminate any possibility of parking in the future. The town hopes to create a space that will be attractive to the town.

BETHEL FIREFIGHTERS were the recent recipients of free blue jeans, compliments of the Carhartt Co. The outdoor clothing company distributes the jeans as part of a nationwide tour that visits construction sites and other organizations/gatherings. Here, Carhartt representatives hand out the jeans in front of the Bethel Fire Station.

The parade is also coming together. Our grand marshal will be Senator Bruce Bryant. We hope all area children will plan on either walking in the parade or riding their bikes. Well-mannered pets are welcome. We are hoping that the area fire departments will also participate. There is always plenty of room if you would like to join in.

Some members of the committee have been hard at work sorting the books from the Gilead Library Association. These books have been stored in boxes in the hall for the past few years. Alice Strait and Bill and Gail Tout have gone through all the books, and, with the help of Sandy Dennis, they have determined which ones to keep and which ones to discard. On Saturday, May 22, and Sunday May 23, the Town Hall will be open for a book sale. We hope to sell off most of the discards and use the money to buy supplies for the work being done on the Little Library Room in the Town Hall. Len Strait and Linwood Cox helped paint inside the building last week. Richard Saunders stopped by to help with some of the preparations for painting. They have all worked hard and deserve a big thank you. Stop by on Saturday or Sunday and check out the books and the new coat of paint.

The t-shirts have been printed. The logo is on the front, and the back is the same picture as on the front of the history book, "The Smile of Providence." Contact Lin Chapman at 836-2987 or Bev Corriveau at 836-2032 if you are interested in buying a t-shirt.

We are still looking for vendors to set up in June. Give us a call if you are interested.

From the Telstar Alumni Association

The Telstar Alumni Association held its monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 11, at Telstar Regional High School. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given and accepted. It was voted by the attending alumni members to draft a letter, to be sent to as many members as time and money allows, about donating money to our Alumni Memorial Fund.

Each May, the alumni give out five Educational Assistance Awards to seniors who have parents, or, it seems now, grandparents who are Telstar graduates. We would like to be able to give out more than just five awards, but we just don't have enough funds to allow it. Any alumni who would like to make a monetary donation to the Memorial Fund, either a cash donation or in memory of someone deceased, we would use these funds to give more awards.

Notice to all alumni: if your mailing address has changed because of F-911, please get in touch with us. The school's mailing address is still 284 Walkers Mills Road, Bethel, ME 04217.

And, all alumni are always invited to our monthly meetings to add their input. Monthly meetings are always held on the second Tuesday of the month at 6:30 p.m. in the Telstar Conference Room.

Reunion planning is well underway for this summer. This summer's reunion years are as follows: 1969 (35 years), 1974 (30 years), 1979 (25 years), 1984 (20 years), 1989 (15 years), 1994 (10 years) and 1999 (5 years). The Alumni Association encourages you to plan your reunions to coincide with Alumni Day 2004, which is Aug. 14 — always the second Saturday in August for those of you who need to plan months ahead.

The next Alumni Association meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 8, at Telstar Regional High School Conference Room at 6:30 p.m. All are invited to attend.

In our nation's capitol there have been memorials to our Korean and Viet Nam veterans but none for those from World War II, when more Americans served and lost their lives than in any other conflict. At last, one has been built and recently opened, with the formal dedication scheduled for May 29. Those veterans who can be there are invited, but many cannot go, so it is fitting that their communities recognize them as their heroes from "The Greatest Generation." We are losing many of them every day as they age.

The Jackson-Silver American Legion Auxiliary, with help of the Post, is planning a special observance on May 29 at the Greenwood Town Hall in Locke Mills. The building is handicapped accessible. All World War II veterans from West Paris north to Woodstock, Greenwood, Bethel, Newry, Gilead and Milton are invited. A noon lunch of soup, salads, sandwiches and dessert will be served free to WW II veterans and the person who accompanies them. Some entertainment will follow, which includes the Barber Shop harmony of "Four on a Match" and some other musical groups.

It is hoped that when the formal dedication takes place in Washington, D.C., at 2 p.m. it can be shown on a large-screen TV, if one can be borrowed. Cable has already been installed at the hall for this purpose. If anyone is willing to loan such a TV, please let the auxiliary know.

The auxiliary will accept help from other posts and auxiliaries in the area and other organizations who may wish to take part. Transportation is one thing that may be needed for veterans who might wish to attend but have no way of getting there.

In order to judge the amount of food needed, would World War II veterans please let us know if you would like to attend and if you may need transportation. Call Olive Risko at 665-2909 or the Legion Hall at 875-2375 and leave messages on answering machines, if you have not received an answer.

From

Oxford County Democrats

Democratic candidates from throughout Oxford County accompanied Governor John Baldacci at a series of events in the Oxford Hills area on May 12. Marge Medd of Norway, chairperson of the Growth Council, and Senate candidate in District 13, joined the governor in breaking ground for the new Oxford Business Park. Senator Bruce Bryant of Dixfield, who is seeking re-election in District 14 and Roy Gedat of Norway, House candidate in District 95, were among the community leaders attending the event. Prior to the groundbreaking ceremony, the governor visited Maine Machine Products in South Paris. Also in attendance were Terry Hayes of Buckfield, House candidate in District 94, Medd, Bryant and County Committee Chairwoman Cathy Newell of Greenwood.

The governor attended a tour of the C.B. Cummings Mill property in Norway, hosted by the Growth Council and the Norway Downtown Committee. Candidates Medd, Bryant, and Gedat accompanied him, and then the group moved on to the Norway Head Start Center for a snack break with preschool students and their teachers. The governor participated in a social service roundtable hosted by Charleen Chase, CEO of Community Concepts. Attending were Roy Gedat, who is completing 18 years as director of the Child Health Center, as he launches his legislative campaign, as well as Senator Bryant, Marge Medd, Dennis Gray of United Way of Oxford County, and Dennis Lajoie, Mike Burke, and Connie Allen of Community Concepts.

The fundraising reception, sponsored by the Oxford County Democratic Committee, was well attended by candidates from the area including Medd, Bryant, Gedat and Timothy Carter of Bethel, House candidate for District 91, Gordon Fuller, House candidate for District 99, Marlee Turner of Brownfield, House candidate for District 97, David Ivey of Oxford, House candidate for District 100, and George Driscoll, candidate for County Commissioner. Senator Bryant introduced the governor and Senate President Beverly Daggett, Majority Leader Sharon Treat and Senator Beth Edmonds, who were among the attendees.

The governor's day in Oxford Hills concluded with a chicken dinner at the Second Congregational Church in Norway, prepared and served by the church's Youth Group. Choral selections were provided by a talented group from Oxford Hills Comprehensive High School. Governor Baldacci was accompanied by his son, Jack.

The County Committee will hold its May meeting at the Democratic Convention, which will be held in Portland on May 21, 22, and 23. Anyone interested in information about involvement with the Democratic Party in Oxford County may contact Chairwoman Newell at 875-2116.

Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

The McLaughlin Foundation, Garden & Horticultural Center, 97 Main Street, South Paris, is pleased to host Business After Hours tonight, Thursday, May 20, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Chef Jason Robinson will be highlighting some dishes from their Garden Cafe menu which is poised to open Memorial Day weekend. Bring your business card — they will be raffling off a beautiful lilac shrub just in time for lilac season. They can't wait to have you see the Garden — just perfect for viewing the unbelievable display of lilacs. This alone is well worth the drive. If you have never been to The McLaughlin Foundation, this is the perfect opportunity to go and support a fellow chamber member.

Last Friday's annual Awards Dinner and Auction went swimmingly. The recipients were honored and the silent auction raised needed funds. Thanks again to our sponsor Mt. Abram Family Resort, our site host Sunday River Ski Resort, and to all of you who bid high on the auction. There is a photo of all the award recipients elsewhere in this issue.

We have confirmed our entertainment for the 15th annual Bethel Art Fair, scheduled for Saturday, July 3, as the Women of Note from Yarmouth. They, along with help from Rob Robbins of the Bethel Inn, will be performing on the gazebo from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in two sets, with a short break. We have a full complement of vendor booths booked with some of our favorite artists and artisans returning as well as some new faces. In addition, lots of delicious food, and a children's art activity area will complete the day's activities. Many thanks to our sponsors: Coca Cola Bottling of Northern New England, the Bethel Inn and Country Club, W.J. Wheeler & Co., Inc., Western Maine Health, the Maine Press, Portland Natural Gas Transmission Systems, the Good Food Store, Northeast Bank Financial Services and the River View Resort.

The Key Bank/Mollycokett Day Classic will again be the "kick-off" to the Mollycokett Day celebration on Saturday, July 17. Event applications are nearly ready and will be available next week. All are welcome to participate and there is something for every fitness buff. For the young children, up to age 14, we offer a one-mile fun run, starting at 8:30 a.m. in front of the Bethel Inn. A gentle one-mile course up Mason Street to the Crescent Park School and back to the start will be lined by well-wishers. At 9 a.m., a five-mile more challenging loop will begin. A 2½-mile walking event will begin at the same time. We have lots of prizes and a beautiful commemorative t-shirt will be offered once again. Many thanks to our sponsors: Key Bank, Pepsi, Irving Oil, NTL Institute, and Goodwin's Insurance.

From the

Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

The first lecture in the Bethel Historical Society's 2004 series was held May 13, in the Dr. Moses Mason House Exhibit Hall. Howard Reiche and Hugh Chapman were the featured speakers on "Highlights of the History of Gilead, Maine" as part of the society's recognition of the celebration of this western Maine town's bicentenary. Hugh Chapman described how he came to gather material and find someone to continue the research and writing of the book that came out of this effort, "The Smile of Providence: A History of Gilead, Maine." Howard Reiche of Falmouth described the evolution of Gilead from the early 19th century to the present. As the town was divided by the Androscoggin River, many institutions were present on both sides of it, including churches and schools. There was, however, but one store in town on the south side of the river. Gilead was once known for its boarding houses and a rail line that ran from Gilead village to Hastings village in Batchelder's Grant. Farming and logging were the principal occupations of most of the residents through much of the town's history. The presentation was completed with several slides of old photographs of Gilead. Refreshments of a special Gilead birthday cake, ice cream and cake completed the evening's festivities. Recognition was also made that this month marks the 30th anniversary of Stanley R. Howe's assumption of duties as chief administrator of the Bethel Historical Society.

The Faye Taylor Art Show is scheduled for May 29, at the Exhibit Hall. The theme this year is "River Ferries on the Androscoggin." Students in SAD44 (Grades 1-6) are urged to enter the contest. For more information call the society office at 824-2908.

Also on May 29, the society will hold its annual St. Nevers' Day sale. Items in good condition (no clothes please) are still being collected for the sale. They may be left at the back entrance of O'Neil Robinson House, 10 Broad Street. If pick-up is necessary, please call the society at 824-2908.

The last class of the winter/spring course offered by the society, "Canada and Northern New England," was held April 29 at the O'Neil Robinson House. As this session focused on the 20th century, issues such as trade, fisheries agreements, immigration, wartime conditions and border crossing were among those discussed. Two individuals were the focus of discussion as well: Kenneth Colin Irving, who created a multi-billion dollar empire in New Brunswick, and Clarence Decatur Howe American born (Waltham Mass.), who emigrated to Halifax, Nova Scotia, to teach engineering at Dalhousie University following his graduation from M.I.T. Irving's sons now carry on the father's work and Irving filling stations are now a common sight in northern New England. Irving is also at present the largest landowner in Maine as well. C. D. Howe went on to become a successful engineer, owning his own firm before entering Canadian politics in 1935, serving in a number of portfolios, in addition to being the trusted adviser and the English-Canadian counterpart to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent. In World War II, he led the Canadian war supply effort. His parents and sister are buried in East Bethel among the many Bethel relatives at rest in that cemetery.

School Sports

High School Varsity Baseball

Telstar 12, Lisbon 8; May 17— Telstar's Billy Mitchell had three hits and Casey Fleet, Peter Poor and August Reiss two each in a win over Lisbon. Josh Longway had a triple and Fleet, Mitchell, Reiss, Poor and Jake Largess each had doubles. Terry Collins was the winning pitcher.

High School Varsity Softball

Telstar 2, Lisbon 0; May 17— Telstar's Jillian Kimball pitched a two-hitter and struck out five in a win over Lisbon. Jessie Farrington had three hits and the Rebel defense made no errors.

Telstar 12, Madison 0; May 14— Telstar pitcher Jillian Kimball retired 18 batters in a row after allowing a leadoff single, as the Rebels defeated Madison. Kayla Mills had four hits and three RBIs, and Santana Wilson had three hits and three RBIs. Kimball had two doubles and three RBIs. Ashley Stambolis had a double.

High School JV Softball

Telstar 15, Gorham, NH 12; May 17— Telstar's Kara Thurlow had the hot bat, missing the cycle by a homerun. Kara ripped the cover off the ball going 4 for 4 with 2 singles, a double, and a triple. Danna Wilson chipped in going 2 for 2 with triple and a single. Lacey Gammon and Jessica James each scored 3 runs. Tonie Morin picked up the win on the mound with a season high 8 strikeouts. "The team is hitting the ball really well and the defense is coming along," said coach Kim Kangas.

Telstar 12 Madison 24; May 14— Telstar's Kristie Carver hit her first triple of the season in a loss to Madison. Steph Tripp added a hit and had a great defensive game. Kayla Damon contributed 2 hits and a scored run. Coach Kangas Telstar 10, Monmouth Academy 6; May 13— Telstar played its best game of the season with a 10-6 win over Monmouth, to extend their record to 4-3. Tonie Morin pitched a great game to pick up the win on the mound striking out 5 and only walking 1. Kara Thurlow had 2 doubles and Steph Tripp had 2 hits. Jessica James and Kara Thurlow had great defensive games.

Women's Varsity Lacrosse

Gould 13, Hyde 3; May 12 - The Gould women's varsity lacrosse team did it again, they made it to the MAISAD finals. To get to the finals Gould had to beat Kents Hill School, who was the number four seed. Gould won easily, beating Kents Hill 13-3. Strong performances were put in by all, with great goaltending by Jen, who had 13 saves. Hannah and Lauren had a couple great interceptions and kept the ball away from # 17. On attack Betsy led the scoring with 6 goals and an assist, Sara had 2 goals and 4 assists, Maddie had 2 goals, Mallory had a goal and assist, Katie and Bailey each added one to round out the attack's scoring.

Men's Varsity Baseball

Hebron 16, Gould 15; May 12 — Gould baseball team will not be around to defend its two straight MAISAD championships as it fell to Hebron in the MAISAD semi-final game last Wednesday. Trailing 11-6, the Huskies rallied, as they have the last half of the season, though it came to an end with the bases loaded. The story of the game was poor fielding, 10 errors and 10 unearned runs, too much to overcome. Seniors Quinn McAllister, Jon Monson and Haku Shimizu finished their GA baseball careers with style. Quinn pitched a gutsy four innings, two days after a major operation, going 2-2 and reaching base 5 times. Haku was 3-4 and was walked intentionally, fearing what might happen if they let him hit again. Jon played another strong game at the hot corner, with two assists and a put out. At bat he reached base three times.

Women's Varsity Tennis

MAISAD Singles Championship; May 12 — Brie Noyes, Mason Friedman and Eliza Van Heerden all traveled to Hebron to compete for the MAISAD Singles Championship. Mason Friedman played one of the first matches of the tournament and won by a nose in a tiebreaker (9-8, 7-0). She then went on to her second match against the number one seed overall and lost a tiring match, 1-8. Eliza Van Heerden lost a closely contested match but just barely, losing 8-6. Brie Noyes won her first match 8-5 and then went on to beat Kents Hill's number two player in two straight sets (6-0, 6-1).

MAISAD Doubles Championship; May 15 — Andrea DeCaro, Maleah Piazza, Liz Carson, and Laura Miklos all traveled to Hebron to play for the MAISAD Doubles Championship. Under a scorching sun, all four girls played very competitive tennis. DeCaro and Piazza faced Hebron's number two team and, despite a late set comeback, lost 8-3. Carson and Miklos, riding a late season improvement, played a very competitive set with many great volleys at the net but eventually lost 8-5.

TMS Varsity Baseball

Telstar 6, Dirigo 5; May 18— Telstar pulled out a last-inning win against Dirigo. Mike Fleet pitched 4 2/3 with 3 strike-outs only two walks and pitched consistent strikes. Andrew Buck came into the game for the last 2 1/3 innings to shut down Dirigo's attack and strike out two batters. Mike Fleet helped his team with a home run and a double, Andy Whitney had two singles, was on base 5 times and scored 3 times, one the game winning run, Andrew Buck hit a game winning double, Matt Farrington and James Kimball each hit a single.

Telstar 11, Berlin 7; May 17—Telstar's Andy Whitney pitched consistent strikes to keep the Rebels in the game. Mike Fleet led all hitting with a double and two singles and scored three times, while Whitney, Andrew Buck, Gavin Broomhall, and James Kimball all had singles.

TMS JV Baseball

Telstar 13, Madison 1; May 14— Telstar got good pitching from Nate Walker who had 7 strikeouts. The Rebels were led offensively by Blake Conrad who had 3 singles. Nate Walker had 2 singles.

Telstar 3, Monmouth 2; May 13— A great pitching performance was given by Louis Thornton, who struck out 7 while walking 2. The telstar offense was paced by Allen Buck and Blake Conrad who had 2 hits each.

TMS Softball

Berlin 14, Telstar 13; May 17— Telstar lost a hard fought game at Berlin in the bottom of the 7th inning. Whitney Mills and Vicki Rice combined for a solid pitching performance but some well placed hits in the gaps made the difference. Offensively Nikki Hughes led the way with a grand slam and a double, Josie Reiss with a three run homer and a single. Mills with three singles, Bailey Davis with a double and two singles, Abby Hutchins, Rice, and Abbie Cummings with two hits each, Katie Smith, Esther Pew, Sarah Field, and Julia Stambolis with one hit each. The team is now 6-2 on the season.

TMS Girls' Track

Telstar Regional High School Announces the Top 10 Scholars of 2004

Telstar Regional High School staff and students are pleased to recognize the honor students from the graduating class of 2004. These ten individuals have distinguished themselves throughout their high school careers. The Telstar community congratulates these young scholars for their commitment to their studies, their school, and their communities.

Megan Kathryn Kelly
Valedictorian

Valedictorian this year is Megan Kathryn Kelly, daughter of T.J. Kelly of Hopkinton, Mass. and Kathy Kelly of Bryant Pond. Megan has numerous academic achievements. She has received Academic Excellence awards in all subject areas and is a recipient of the Phi Beta Kappa Association of Maine, 2004 Maine Principals' Association, Smith College Book, Bausch & Lomb Science, Maine Scholars Achievement, President's Educational Awards Program for Outstanding Academic Excellence and National Leadership Merit awards. Megan has been published in Who's Who Among American High School Students and is an All American Scholar.

Outside the classroom, Megan is involved in many activities. She has been Co-President of Student Council and secretary of the National Honor Society for the past two years. She is a member of Youth Empowering Students at Telstar, Prom Committee, Peer Mediators, the Freshman Awareness Committee and Graduation Committee. Megan was also a cast member in last year's spring musical. Her varied volunteer work includes: helping organize several Red Cross blood drives through NHS, Read Across America Volunteer, help with March of Dimes local events and participation in a smoking awareness program at the Woodstock Elementary School.

Megan enjoys spending time with her friends and family, music and babysitting. She will attend the University of Maine in Orono, where she plans to major in Elementary Education and hopes to be a Kindergarten teacher.

Santana Marie Wilson
Salutatorian

Santana Marie Wilson is Salutatorian. She is the daughter of David and Sheri Wilson of Greenwood. Among Santana's academic achievements are the President's Educational Awards Program Award for Outstanding Academic Excellence, the Maine Scholar's Achievement Award, Society of Women Engineers Award, National Leadership Merit Award, and Academic Excellence awards in all subject areas. She is also published in Who's Who Among American High School Students, an All American Scholar and an All American Scholar Athlete for hockey and basketball.

Santana is very active outside the classroom. She is a member of Big Sisters, Youth Empowering Students at Telstar, Peer Mediators, Freshman Awareness Committee, National Honor Society, Yearbook Staff, Graduation Committee, Prom Committee, Rotary-Sponsored Interact Club and is a Dirigo Girls State delegate. As an accomplished athlete, Santana has played four years of field hockey, basketball and softball. The senior field hockey co-captain was also named to the All-State and Mountain Valley Conference All-Star teams. She received the field hockey Varsity Rookie of the Year Award her freshman year and a Four-Year Varsity Starter Award. She has received coaches' awards in basketball and softball. She was named to the Mountain Valley Conference All-Star Academic Team for field hockey.

Santana enjoys camping with family and friends and tap dancing. She will attend the University of Maine in Orono to study kinesiology.

Lindsey May Farrington
Third Honors

Lindsey May Farrington, daughter of Mark and Sharon Farrington of Andover, has earned Third Honors. Lindsey has had much success in the classroom, earning a spot on the Honor Roll every quarter of her high school career. She has received Academic Excellence awards in Science, Consumer Science, Math, Spanish and Social Studies. Lindsey has been published in Who's Who Among American High School Students and is a National Leadership Merit Award winner. She has also received a President's Educational Awards Program Award for Outstanding Academic Excellence and is an All American Scholar.

Lindsey's activities outside the classroom include: Future Business Leaders of America, Prom Committee, National Honor Society, Job Bank, Graduation Committee, Rotary-Sponsored Interact Club and Senior Class Treasurer. She was a Dirigo Girls State delegate and was a varsity softball manager for the past two years. Her volunteer work includes helping with Read Across America, American Red Cross blood drives, NHS Senior Citizen Thanksgiving dinners and Andover Alumni banquets.

Lindsey enjoys swimming, camping, cooking shows and long vacations. She plans to attend the University of Maine at Machias as a biology major.

Alanna Jade Borst
Fourth Honors

Alanna Jade Borst has earned fourth honors. She is the daughter of David and Diane Borst of Greenwood. Among the awards she has received at Telstar include consistent placement on the high honor and honor rolls, Academic Excellence Awards in a variety of subjects and publication in Who's Who Among American High School Students. She has received the National Leadership Merit Award and the All American Scholar Award.

Alanna is a member of Youth Empowering Students at Telstar, Peer Mediators, Big Sisters, Freshman Awareness Committee, Yearbook Staff and is this year's National Honor Society president. She is Senior Class Co-President and was class treasurer her Junior year. She played four years of field hockey for Telstar and was named to the Mountain Valley Conference All-Star Academic Field Hockey team and received an All American Scholar Athlete Award for field hockey.

Alanna enjoys shopping and spending time with family and friends. She plans to attend the University of Maine in Orono.

Andrew Allen Lowe
Fifth Honors

Andrew Allen Lowe, son of Alan and Christina Lowe of Bethel, has earned fifth honors. His awards at Telstar include Academic Excellence in Consumer Science, Social Studies, Science and English and consistent honor roll placement. Andy has also received a Maine Scholars Achievement Award and a National Leadership Merit Award. He is an All American Scholar and is published in Who's Who Among American High School Students. Andy also received the President's Educational Awards Program award for Outstanding Academic Excellence.

Andy is a member of the Freshman Awareness Committee and Prom Committee. He was also a Dirigo Boys State delegate.

Andy enjoys being with friends, watching movies, video games and target practice. He plans to study biochemistry at the University of Maine in Orono.

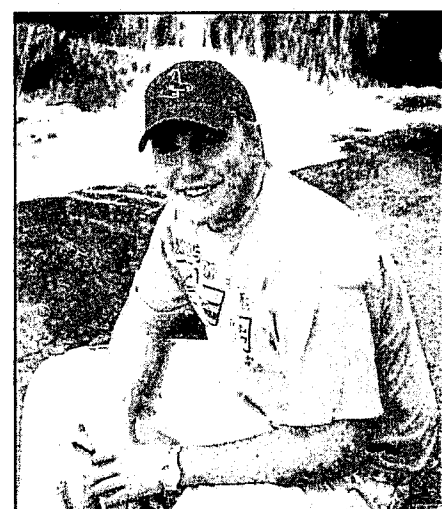

Eliot Nicolas Poirier
Sixth Honors

Androscoggin Valley Hospital

DIRECTOR, FOOD SERVICE

Androscoggin Valley Hospital has a full-time, exempt position open for a Director of Food Service. Primary responsibilities involve directing, supervising and coordinating the functions and activities of the Food Service and Cafeteria cost centers. In coordination with Clinical Nutrition Services, plans and coordinates menu and recipe development for patients, staff, and visitors. Manages catering functions and supports coordinated dietary programs and related services for outpatients and community health education programs.

Successful candidate must have a minimum of two years of college level food service administration in an accredited institution with a major in nutrition or food service management. A proven record of successful management experience may be substituted for college level training. Three years of progressively responsible management experience is required. Excellent leadership, personnel management, and organizational skills are essential, with orientation to detail and accuracy.

We offer a competitive salary, an attractive benefit package and excellent working conditions.

If interested, contact:
Human Resources Department

EVELYN G. BELL

Evelyn Gurschick Bell, 79, of Caron Lane, Auburn and formerly of Andover, died Sunday, May 9, 2004 at the Odd Fellows Home following a short illness.

She was born in Skowhegan on Dec. 1, 1924, the daughter of Leon and Mildred (Smith) Wilbur and was a graduate of Rumford High School.

She was the widow of Karl Gurschick, who died in July of 1978.

She was a housewife having raised her loving family, worked part-time selling deer-skin gloves, and also worked for the Andover Water District and Library.

She taught Sunday School and was a member of the First Baptist Church in Rumford and the Andover Congregational Church. She was also a member of the Ladies Circle in Andover.

She enjoyed the "Olde Home Days," knitting, word puzzles, and writing in her journal.

She is survived by her five children, Karl Gurschick and his wife Dawn of Hermon, Keith Gurschick and his wife Terry of Windsor, Nova Scotia, Kathy Gurschick of Lewes, Del., Karen Crowley and her husband Jim of Westminster, S.C., and Kirby Gurschick and his wife Karen of Auburn; nine grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her infant daughter, Kimberly; her second husband, Albert Bell; her brother, Everett; and her sister, Dorothy Harvey.

Graveside services will be held Friday, May 14 at 2 p.m., at Woodlawn Cemetery in Andover. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Evelyn's name to the National MS Society, c/o Karen Crowley, 1983 Highway 59, Westminster, SC 29693, or to the Odd Fellows Home, 309 Fairview Avenue, Auburn, ME 04210.

Thank You

I want to thank everyone that had anything to do with my "Surprise" retirement party. I was overwhelmed by all the people there and the cards sent. It was quite a trip for 22 years in a man's world. I was very blessed with all the gifts and money. Don't know where life will take me, but do know it will not be "quitting at noon" because I don't even have to start. Guys you know what I mean. I'm still "picking up pennies" for my retirement fund. Big special thanks to: Boss - Jeff Littlehale and Family & DOT Crew, Daughter - Deb Luxton for her great big heart, always doing for others. Sons - Jody & Willie for help in supporting me. Husband - Joe for putting up with me for 44 years. Friends - Herbie & Bev for making our family circle complete.

Best of Luck to All...
THANK YOU, Freda Gaudreau

EVELYN MAE NICKERSON

Evelyn Mae (Perry) Nickerson died at the Ledgeview Living Center in West Paris on May 14, 2004.

She was born in Bath on Sept. 27, 1915, the first child of George R. and Eunice Madelyn Hart Perry. She was educated in Bath schools and graduated from Morse High School June 14, 1933. Following graduation, she was employed part-time for CMP for several years.

She worked for various families in the West Boothbay area as a domestic, during which time she met many interesting people, including Lowell Thomas; she also worked for her father at Perry's Diner in Bath.

She was married to Herbert E. (Nick) Nickerson on Aug. 2, 1946. The family lived in Brunswick and in Albany, N.Y., where her husband cooked at colleges, and they spent summers at The Chute Homestead in Naples, where Nick was the chef and Evelyn served as dining room hostess.

In 1953 the family moved to Hebron where Evelyn worked part-time as a clerk in the Post Office; she was very active there in the Mother's Club, Sunday school, Brownies and Girl Scouts. They moved to Bethel in 1960, where she was employed as the dining room supervisor at Gould Academy. After retiring from Gould Academy in 1971, she and her husband remained active.

working part-time cooking at Sunday River Inn, as custodians at the Bethel Historical Society, and as managers at Sudbury Village apartments. She was a Sunday school teacher at the Bethel United Methodist Church for several years.

Survivors include a son, George and his wife Danna of Bethel; a daughter, Linda and her husband Bruce McDormand of North Hampton, N.H.; one sister, Doris MacDonald; one brother, George R. Perry Jr.; three grandchildren, Scott McDormand and his wife Julie of Brookline, N.H.; Deborah and her husband Seth Murphy of Manchester, N.H. and Kate and her husband Chad Dumais of Livermore; and two great-grandsons, Tyler and Colby McDormand of Brookline, N.H. She was predeceased by her husband in 1993; her parents; and sister, Gertrude Stover.

Private graveside services will be held at the Riverside Cemetery, Bethel. In lieu of flowers, contributions in her memory may be made to the Bethel Historical Society Annual Fund, P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217.

Card of Thanks

Many thanks to all those who remembered me during my knee surgery and recuperation. Your thoughts, well wishes, gifts and visits are greatly appreciated.
